Meeting Information

Meeting Competencies and Objectives

This course discusses the “2012 Updated Consensus Guidelines for the Management of Women with Abnormal Cervical Cancer Screening Tests and Cancer Precursors” developed by ASCCP and experts representing 23 professional societies, federal agencies and national and international health organizations. These revised consensus guidelines are based on recent literature and analysis of clinical data from Kaiser Permanente Northern California (KPNC) Health System including observations from approximately 1.4 million women about risk of CIN3, AIS and cancer after abnormal cervical cancer screening tests.

These recommendations can be challenging to apply to specific clinical situations. This postgraduate course provides clinicians with a working understanding of the rationale for the recommendations, and opportunities to apply the guidelines in varied common specific cases and patient populations.

Upon completion of this educational activity and its post-test and evaluation tool, the learner should be able to:

Objectives:

- Apply an understanding of the epidemiology and natural history of HPV and cervical cancer precursors to the rational screening of women for cervical cancer using the current consensus guidelines and interim guidance for use of primary HPV testing for cervical cancer screening.
- Apply the basic and clinical science underlying the Updated Consensus Management Guidelines to the individualized management of abnormal screening tests and preinvasive histologic lesions
- Manage women from special populations (e.g., adolescent, post-menopausal, and pregnant women) with abnormal screening results and CIN/AIS
- Implement cost-effective management of CIN, vaginal intraepithelial neoplasia (VaIN), and HPV testing and vaccination (practice-based learning, patient care).

Course Educational Methods

Lectures: Each day, the learners will attend general plenary sessions related to their areas of interest. Each session will conclude with a question and answer period led by the presenter(s) to reinforce core concepts. Throughout the lectures and question and answer periods, faculty members utilize an Audience Response System. The faculty uses these group responses to readdress items not answered correctly by the target goal percentage. This immediate feedback helps course attendees identify their own weaknesses and allows them to follow up with the faculty onsite.

Panel Discussions: For selected topics, learners will direct questions to panels of experts on how to integrate reported advances into their practices. Experts will present their varying evidence-based perspectives so that learners can determine what may be best practice in their setting.

Cases Session: Learners will work through case-based modules that illustrate the application of guidelines in individual cases. These sessions will provide intense and interactive exposure to multiple patient cases and will allow the learners to practice both assessing their understanding of the guidelines and selecting the proper screening and management pathways for patients. The case study discussions will utilize an audience response system, allowing the attendees to practice what has been learned and to receive immediate faculty feedback.

The lectures will be available for download until May 16, 2016 at www.asccp.org/2016annualmeeting/CBlectures

Continuing Medical Education

ACCME Accreditation

The American Society for Colposcopy and Cervical Pathology is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The ASCCP Pre-Course: Colposcopy: Case-Based was planned and produced in accordance with the ACCME's Essential Areas and Elements and Updated Criteria (see www.accme.org).

Continuing Medical Education Credits

Attendees will receive a maximum of 6.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Instructions for Obtaining Continuing Medical Education Credit

To complete this program successfully and receive credit and a certificate of attendance, participants must:

- Complete the pre-test found online prior to the meeting;
- Read the program educational objectives and review and utilize the final program;
- Sign in at the ASCCP registration desk and attend the program;
- Complete the post-test and post-conference assessment (15 minute online survey);
- Claim credits via ASCCP webpage

CME Certificates

CME certificates will be available online after completion of the evaluation. During the meeting, if you notice an error on your name badge, registration letter, or any other ASCCP materials, please stop by the registration desk so that we may correct.

Management of Disclosure of Interest and Contributed Fund

As an accredited provider of CME credit, ASCCP is required to comply with the ACCME's Standards for Commercial Support and has implemented a management process to ensure that anyone who is in a position to affect the content of the educational activity (e.g., faculty, planners, etc.) has disclosed to us all relevant financial relationships with any commercial interest and has ensured that those relationships do not influence presentation materials. All faculty have agreed to base their presentations on best available evidence. ASCCP discloses to learners any financial relationship(s) to healthcare-related commercial interests existing within the past 12 months to include the following information: 1) the name of the individual; 2) the name of the commercial interest; and, 3) the nature of the relationship the person has with each commercial interest. Program directors review presentation materials for possible bias prior to the program, and potential conflicts of interest are resolved prior to the presentation. Any discussion of off-label use of products is noted when appropriate, as is discussion of any limitations on the information that is presented, such as data that are preliminary or that represent ongoing research, interim analyses, and/or unsupported opinion. Disclosures of these commitments and/or relationships are published in the final program materials and provided from the podium so those participants in the activity may formulate their own judgments regarding the presentation(s). The program directors and co-directors also monitor presentations for bias and intervene as appropriate to provide balance. Under ASCCP policy, anyone declining either to disclose or amend material to eliminate potential bias identified by the program directors are replaced.

The disclosures listed below are all reported disclosures of interest or potential conflicts from the 12 months preceding this activity:
